CalPERS Asset Allocation – February 28, 2011

General Market Commentary

The U.S. economy continues its uptrend into the early parts of 2011. This however has come at a cost to consumers as the demand for fuel climbed quite dramatically during the month of February. Many speculate this demand is being driven by retail sales climbing up as well as the turmoil in the Middle East. Despite the economy seemingly taking a turn for the better, there are fears that all this will do is drive up the cost for consumer goods. This coupled with unemployment rates still fairly high at nearly 9% could be recipe for trouble in the U.S. The American public will need to wait and see how all these rising costs will factor into the economy in the upcoming months.

Domestic and International Equities

The S&P 500 index return was up for the month at 3.4%. Small-cap stocks, as measured by the Wilshire Small Cap Index, were up at 5.4% for the month. Large-cap growth and value stocks were up in February and returned 3.0% for growth and 3.7% for value (as measured by the Wilshire Large Growth and Value). International equities were up as well, with the MSCI EAFE up 3.3% in dollar terms and (2.4% in local currency). Emerging markets were down at -0.9% in dollar terms (as measured by the MSCI EM Index) during the month.

Domestic and International Fixed Income

The Barclays Capital Aggregate Bond Index returned 0.3% for February, ahead of the US Treasury return of -0.3% (as measured by BC Intermediate Treasury Index). The BC Long Term Treasury Index returned 1.2% despite yields on 30-year Treasury bonds being down from the previous month. U.S. TIPS returned 0.9% (BC U.S. TIPS Index) during February. The high yield bond market returned 1.3% during the month, as measured by the Merrill Lynch High Yield Master II Index. International fixed income markets returned 0.4% while the dollar was down against the euro and pound as measured by the Citigroup World Government Bond Index ex US (unhedged).

Real Estate

Public real estate (as measured by the Wilshire US RESI Index) was positive with a return of 4.5% in February. The NCREIF Index of Real Estate Properties returned 4.6% for the quarter ended December 2010.

Absolute Return Strategies

Absolute Return Strategies (HFRI Fund to Funds Index) returned 0.8% in February and 6.8% for the 12 months ended February 2011.
